

Three interesting things in Arizona Jessie

Along Route 66 in Arizona there are three interesting things young people may like to do. [YOU HAVE A TOPIC SENTENCE...BUT NO 1ST PARAGRAPH]

First you may pass by a place called the “Petrified Forest National Park”. In the daylight you can see the rainbow colors of the rocks in the park. The roads though the park are very narrow, so you should pay attention to your driving.

Second is the Meteor Crater, close to Winslow. While you are driving through Two Guns, you can find an old section of the road that heads southwest of the town and ends after a few miles. Enjoy “tracking” Rt. 66.

The third one is Snow Gap. It is run by Juan Delgadillio, a genuine character. On Rt. 66. He will offer his business card which says: “MY CARD”, and used napkins and straws, as well as a “dead chicken”. It is all part of his zany act. By the way, the food is really very good.

There are many other interesting things to see and experience in Arizona along Rt. 66. Take a tour along Route 66, get your kicks.
